

Moses Victor c.1941 (Romania) to June 10, 1912 (Montreal)

With the aid of the JewishGen Online Worldwide Burial Registry, I found the graves of Moses and Zisel Victor in October of 2012 in Montreal. It was both exciting and disappointing, because Moses' stone was leaning on Zisel's.

Things move a little slowly in a cemetery, so Moses, or Moishe Maier, a hundred years after his death, spent over a year leaning on his wife Zisel. In the fall of 2013, though, his stone was reset. The only drawback is that the site is harder to find, because it was easier to find a leaning stone.

Leaning stone, 18 October 2012

Upright stone, 5 November 2013